

E. L. SMITH OIL CO. GUSHER EXTENDS FIELD

3 Gushers In Monday, One Of Which Soon Catches On Fire

Irvine No. 1 Now Making 12,000 And Getting Bigger

E. L. Smith Oil Company, Inc., another Mexia operator in the Powell pool, joined production owners Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock when the Irvine No. 1 came in as an extension Southeast of almost one half mile. It made 390 barrels of pure pipe line oil before five o'clock, an hour later and by eleven o'clock, approximately 7 hours after it had gushed in, the gusher had filled the 1,500 barrels of storage on the Jensen. The production was conservatively estimated at first as 5,000 barrels, then 9,000 and due to the constant and steady growth of the output, today it is said the well is making at the rate of from 12,000 to 15,000 barrels daily.

The well for the past two weeks has been the operation of greatest interest and significance of any that was going down. Its incoming proves up considerable acreage. During the past few days, E. L. Smith, President and Blake Smith, Vice President, have been on the ground almost constantly and the preparations made beforehand showed the faith they had and the confidence that the driller had in the final results, and so the well came in without any difficulty or trouble from inadequate preparation or from that which sometimes occurs when a gusher springs a surprise.

J. L. Collins was the Contracting Driller. The well was started about the first of June and most satisfactory and rapid progress has been made, the well leading in the race for the sands south of the Humphreys Fair 1 and Southeast of the Humphreys McKee 2.

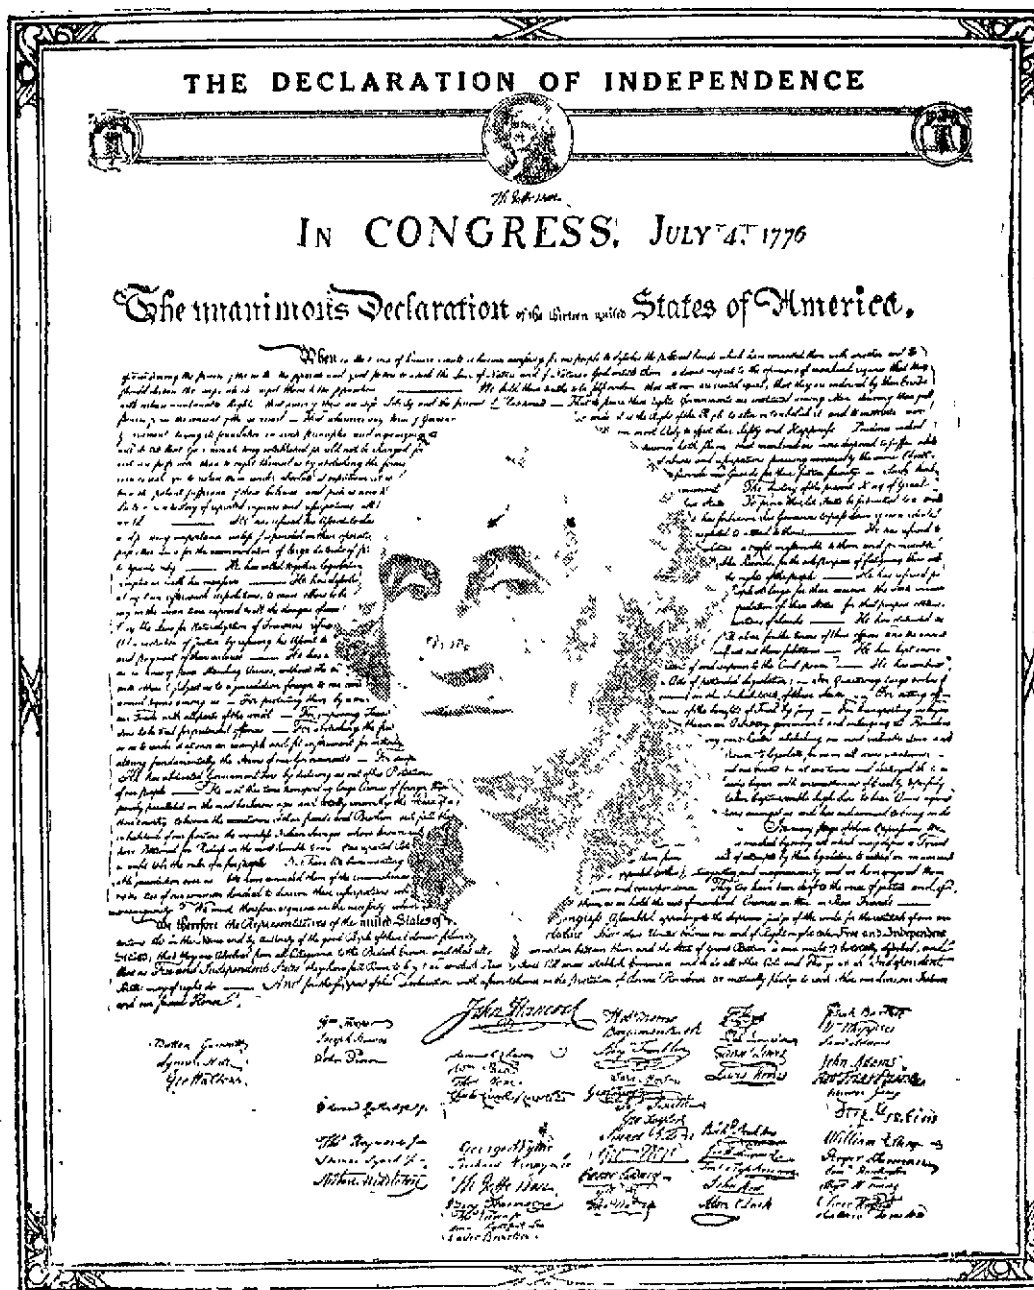

The gravity of the oil is 36. This extension discovery by the Mexia-born company, officered by Mexia citizen, is considered the most significant single discovery yet made by the E. L. Smith Oil Company and will be a matter of much interest to stockholders throughout the United States. The Company also owns part of the royalty on the tract.

The success has also stimulated interest in that part of the field and confirmed the faith of such major companies as the Humble, Roxana and others who own large lease holdings in that direction.

The E. L. Smith Oil Company Inc. has already made locations for 2 more wells, on its Irvine holdings.

Offset acreage to the West is held by the Humble Oil and Refining Company and to the North by the Roxana, both of which have wells going down. Many new locations were made today, following the discovery and this will go on unabated, it is believed, at least until the Humble Company completes the furthest South test on the Kent.

The Sun Company's Springfield No. 1 was brought in Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock, being this company's second producer for the field. Its first was on the Kent tract. The new producer on the Springfield is considered good for 2500 to 3000 barrels a day. It made better than 100 barrels an hour for the first six hours. Being a direct offset to the Thompson Springfield, it is expected to stimulate activities considerably in that section of the field. It will bring the Sun Company's production for the field up to about 6,000 barrels daily. It picked up the sand at 2,915 feet and was drilled in ten feet.

Mitchell Jones-Seay Cranfill Christian 1 Is Yet Burning

The third well to come in at Powell Monday was the Mitchell Jones-Cranfill-Christian No. 1. Its flow was estimated at about 3,000 barrels, however, so short was its life as an uninterrupted gusher that no accuracy could be attached to the estimate, for almost at the moment that it was completed, the six members of the drilling crew had to scamper for their lives as it burst into blaze and smoke.

The fire could be discerned from Mexia, recalling the lurid scenes of earlier days in the field when the tragic fire occurred on Hughes McKee. The flaming well is located about 300 yards southwest of the Thompson-Springfield No. 1.

Only the fact that the strong flow of gas bursted the control head saved the lives of the workmen, according to V. N. Noble, newspaper editor of Kerens, who was watching the well come in. A crowd of 100, assembled for the same purpose, hastily scrambled to places of safety as the gasser became a veritable volcano.

The fire was caused, according to observers at the well, by a spark from the boiler. When the gas flow burst the control head the drilling crew sensing danger, went 50 feet away from the drill. They were barely out of range before flames began to leap hundreds of feet in the air.

Paul Kahl Successor Henry Johnson Great Throngs Pay Tribute to Henry M. Johnson

The funeral services of Henry M. Johnson, conducted at the Methodist church, Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock was one of the most largely attended services of its kind ever held in Mexia. It was an eloquent tribute of love and esteem for a neighbor and modest Christian gentleman.

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. B. Andrews, assisted by Rev. J. G. Putman. Impressive to everyone gathered was the service from the moment the casket rolled through the door and the words "I am the Resurrection and the life" opened the service. The choir of which he was a faithful and efficient member for many years, was present almost without exception—and the voices of men and women who had sung by his side at many other similar services and on all occasions at the church then joined in tenderly singing over the remains of one of their own.

The funeral arrangements were under the direction of the John R. Corley Undertaking Company. Following the Scripture reading by Rev. Putman, the pastor delivered a convincing and sympathetic message along the lines suggested by Paul's unanswerable discourse on the immortality of the soul.

A long line of automobiles followed the hearse to the City Cemetery where he was tenderly laid to rest beneath a bank of flowers placed by loved ones from every walk of life in Mexia.

At the grave the K. P.'s had charge. He had been a beloved brother in the order for more than 30 years and although brief, indeed impressive, was the ceremonies there as read and directed by Major N. P. Houx. As the casket was lowered, sprigs of evergreen were dropped by the members of the lodge who assembled around the fresh opened grave and then they softly and gently hid his body from mortal vision, inspired in the faith that they will some day meet him face to face in that world where all bodily pains are driven from the temple of clay and where no hearts ever break or fail.

Many from neighboring towns and from Freestone County, where the deceased was born, gathered at the services to pay their respects to the deceased and to lend their presence as a balm of sympathy to the bereaved son. Dr. R. M. Johnson, to his two sisters and to all other surviving loved ones.

Old Folks To Enjoy Big Day At Church
An Old Folks Service is planned at the Methodist church Thursday morning at the usual revival hour, 10 o'clock. It is hoped that none in Mexia and surrounding community will be overlooked in the plans for the day and that it will be a memorable occasion for the old folks of the section. Dr. Luther B. Bridgers has a lecture-sermon for the occasion, and other features are to be given that have already aroused much interest and anticipation to be there. An automobile committee has been named, comprised of members of all churches in Mexia and these will go out and bring in the "shut ins" and all who might not otherwise be able to be present. Everyone who knows of any who should be provided for on that date are urged to notify, Mrs. John R. Corley, telephone 85, chairman of the committee. The service is not limited to old folks alone, but to all "shut ins" and the public is cordially invited.

Groesbeck Parties Seriously Injured When I. & G. N. Passenger Strikes Car In Which They Were Riding From Waco

Groesbeck, Texas, July 3.—Four persons were badly injured when the South bound I. & G. N. passenger train struck the automobile in which they were riding about five miles south of Waco Monday. The car was owned by Stony Jackson, a grocery merchant of Groesbeck, and was driven by a colored chauffeur. Mrs. Oliphant, wife of John Oliphant a barber here, and little daughter were also in the car. Jackson was in ill health and had been to Waco for treatment and was returning home when the accident occurred. He suffered a sprained back, a broken ankle, and was considerably bruised about the body. Mrs. Oliphant and daughter were taken from the wreckage unconscious and are both in serious condition. The chauffeur got off with several bruises but was able to help in the rescue of the other passengers. The automobile was making the grade going at a slow rate of speed and the train was upon them before it was noticed by the passengers of the automobile. The victims of the accident were picked up by the crew of the train and carried to Mart and sent to Groesbeck by ambulance.

Opportunity Is Discussed By Dr. Luther Bridgers

Large crowds and a growing interest still characterize the revival now going on at the Methodist church, however, the morning service attendance is not as great as it should be or as it is desired that it should be, according to all who are deeply interested in the success of the meeting.

"And He Must Needs go through Samaria" were the words of the text taken last night around which the evangelist, Dr. Luther B. Bridgers, preached another strong sermon. "Opportunity" was the subject, and he discussed the great theme in a most inspirational way, he pointed out that man's only opportunity for happiness lies in Jesus Christ and His service. Sometimes men and women must go out of their way to grasp this opportunity for service.

Men and women have never found anything to satisfy in this life except as offered and received from the Holy one of Galilee. The minister told the story of the woman at the well which was an incident in the trip through Samaria and perhaps represented the real mission he had in that little country. He said that God's message to the individual was often more impressive than to the throngs that assembled by the seashore to hear the evangelist. If you realized your home needs God; that your soul needs God; that your son needs God, then you would not lose this opportunity to get right with Him. So, a church is seen the world at large, represented in the temple by the breath between heaven and earth, and the light of God's love shining down the path of life and help win the world for Christ. Have you dared to carry salvation to some soul? God help us to improve our opportunities!

J. E. WINANS HERE

J. E. Winans, one of the best loved oil operators who has ever lived in Mexia, now of Fort Worth, was a visitor here Friday. Mr. Winans has several wildcat operations going down and is making every effort to complete them as early as possible.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 3.—Taking a gambler's and a sportsman's chance, Jack Kearns, in the wee hours of this morning, agreed to send Jack Dempsey in the ring against Tommy Gibbons in Shelby, on July 4.

Kearns is taking a "stud game" chance that he would be able to obtain the $300,000 purse guaranteed him in his contract. After a whole night spent in conference, during which Kearns made overtures after overtures to compromise and help the promoters out of their difficulties, it was finally agreed that Kearns should accept the $200,000 that has already been paid him on behalf of the champion and gamble on the gate receipts to make the additional $100,000.

Throughout the conferences, during which efforts were made to learn the real responsible authorities for the fight, Kearns offered every proposition that he knew of to make the fight good. He suggested a postponement of a month; offered to fight for $250,000 and he expressed his willingness to go on the $200,000 that had already been paid to him and to take his chance of getting the rest of his $300,000 purse from the gate after the expenses of the show, including the purse for the preliminaries, the salaries of the ushers and the special policemen, had been paid.

give for his country. On the Fourth of July flowers are banked there. They are not contributions from patriotic organizations; this downtown park is not a gathering place for paraders or celebrators. They are tributes from American citizens who treasure the traditions of our forefathers. They give proof that the nation has a spirit, the people a soul.

The giant crackers have gone and the soap-box orators have lost prestige, but we have come to a sadder, finer Fourth of July. Not so many people are getting drunk on that day, and not so many children are being killed or maimed. But we have not forgotten Nathan Hale and all that courageous soul stands for.

Each state has her own heroes of whom she is justly proud, torch bearers of all time.

Kentucky has her John Yandell, the young lieutenant who could not pick "the weakest man in the outfit" for an errand that meant much to his land but certain death to the one that performed the service. He sent himself.

South Carolina has her Major Sinkler Manning who could not send his men ahead of him in a hopeless drive at Mount Faucon, so he went on front and was first to die.

Texas had her Colonel Fannin, who could not signify his willingness to die by dragging himself across the line in the Alamo, so weakened and shattered was he while he lay on his cot in that heroic spot, so he asked that he be lifted across with his countrymen.

Massachusetts has her Quincy Mills, the young newspaper man who, knowing that he was about to die, in the late great war, wrote his mother: "For myself, I would have you believe that whatever end I met, I met it with an even mind, constant in the conclusion that I would rather have gone out to this war and not come back than not to have gone at all. My chief regret, if I may not live to see the end, is that I may not witness the triumph of right over wrong in this the most terrible eruption of the forces of reaction in the history of man. That these forces can triumph is unthinkable; if they are to win, I would rather die now than witness the victory."

There is a long list of these modern patriots. They have justified their forefathers—they have given us a new Fourth of July.

Let's all show our appreciation for the better things in our national life by being present at the program at the park at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, July the Fourth, and there pledge anew our lives and our sacred all to the fullest and finest development of that part of the State entrusted to us.

"What do you understand by supporting the Constitution of a State, or of the United States? Is it not to give such Constitutional helps to the rights established by that Constitution as may be practically needed? Can you, if you swear to support the Constitution, and believe the Constitution establishes a right, clear your oath without giving it support? Do you support the Constitution, if knowing or believing there is a right established under it which needs specific legislation, you withhold that legislation? I can conceive of nothing plainer in the world. There can be nothing in the words 'support the Constitution' if you may run counter to it by refusing support to any right established under the Constitution." —Abraham Lincoln, September 15, 1858.

And the same rule holds good yet, more than sixty years after Lincoln uttered those patriotic words. Go out to the ball ground tomorrow and hear Rev. Bridges speak on this subject.

ducks are penned only 20 feet from her sleeping porch. Under the law, a person can harbor fowls and domestic animals provided they are kept a prescribed distance from the house. But the law can't regulate their quacking crowing of howling hours.

Other officials point out that noisy phonographs grinding out "Roaming Wild" far into the night, are a nuisance and as such may be quieted. They take the stand that ducks and animals may be classed along with phonographs and made to hush.

S. A. Sackett, assistant county attorney, stoutly maintains, however, that ducks may quack and fowls may cluck any time they select without being molested by law.

Miss May Bessling will take charge as superintendent at the Mexia General hospital today.

AMERICA
My country tis of thee,
Sweet land of Liberty,
Of thee I sing
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side,
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free,
Thy name I love,
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees,
Sweet freedom's song.
Let mortal tongues awake;
Let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break
The song prolong.

Our father's God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing,
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King!

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT IS NOT DEAD!
In this day of materialism, a constant fight must ever be made to place things first.

As citizens, the men of this community even have many interests which persistently strive to take their minds and hearts off the holy things in our national life.

They are all right, if they but pause to think.

On this Fourth of July, let's pause and pay tribute to our nation. Men's duty is not confined to the payment of taxes.

There are innumerable citizens who are unable to pay their taxes who are loyal as any hero who ever died on the altar of native land.

There are some few men and women in the United States today, whose number is constantly and appallingly increasing who scoff at those who believe in the spirit of a nation—who deny that a people can have a soul. They are not the tribe that makes traditions or that perpetuates the glory of the day which should never die.

The spirit of the Fourth of July did not go out with Roman candles. Men in Limestone county citizens, Freestone county citizens, Texas citizens all America will on Wednesday celebrate in the new way with the old spirit.

It has been said that people still put fresh flowers at the feet of the statue of Nathan Hale in City Hall Park in New York. It is one of the busiest spots in the world—and New York is supposed to be a heartless and cold city. Yet almost any day you may find tributes laid at the feet of the young schoolmaster whose only regret was that he had but one life to give for his country.

George Melford, producer of the Paramount picture "You Can't Fool Your Wife" with Leatrice Joy, Lewis Stone, Nita Naldi and Pauline Garon, which comes to the National theatre today, chose Paul McAlister for the role of a distinguished and profound experimenter in therapeutic chemistry. Mr. McAlister was also seen in a Paramount picture, "Froover," wherein he had the role of M. Seraskier. In the present production, Mr. McAlister, as Dr. Konrad Saneck, compounds a new anaesthesia which permits the surgeon to hold a subject's life in suspension for hours at a time.

Kansas Senator Killed in Garage

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 2.—W. Wallace Greene, Attorney and State Senator, was shot to death in his garage Saturday night was killed by an enemy seeking vengeance, according to the theory on which authorities worked today in seeking the slayer.

Greene recently was involved in important law suits and officials believed he made enemies in the conduct of his legal business who may have sought his death. Several persons who might have been antagonistic to the attorney because of his conduct of these matters, were questioned.

The attorney was shot to death while his wife looked on. He had just driven his auto into the garage in the basement of his home in an exclusive residential district of Kansas City when the shots were fired through a broken window.

DON'T FORGET

There Is A Library In Your Town

WHAT IT HAS FOR YOU— WHERE IS IT LOCATED—

That It Can Be Made One of The Most Valuable Assets of Your Town, If You Will Only Help to Make It So.

The editor of the Daily News who is always ready to lend his help in any cause which is for the uplift and advancement of Mexia has given a space in this paper to be used each week in the interests of Mexia Public Library.

Keep an eye open for the Library Corner. It will give you Book Notes, Book lists, general library news and keep you informed as to how the Mexia Public Library may be made a strong factor in building you a better citizenship—in building you a better town.

The Story Telling Hour which for the present is in charge of the Y. W. A. of the Baptist church was conducted Tuesday afternoon by Miss Lillie Savage, assisted by Miss Louise Tidwell.

That it was a success was attested by the rapt attention and interest of the children present. The refreshment of fruit served at the close of the story telling, no doubt contributed some what to the good time. Misses Mildred Cox and Ruth Still will have the hour in charge this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The Library Association appreciates the interest shown in the Library by Mr. David Murphy who has instructed the carrier to leave the Dallas News at the Library Reading Room.

Won't someone else follow this example? We need more magazines, more newspapers, more books. A magazine rack would add wonderfully in displaying and caring for our magazines. Won't some public spirited man who is handy with tools offer to make us one, as his contribution to the Public Library.

We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Tom Phillips who is generously donating ice to supply ice water for the drinking fountain.

The Library will be closed Wednesday in celebration of the Glorious Fourth.

Sam Werner, Secretary of the Mexia money. Before taking him to the jail was considering plans for a big Minstrel to be given by Noble talent in the next thirty days. The event, if held, will likely be in the auditorium of the new High School. A full explanation is expected in a few days and the public knows that the Shriners will put over whatever they propose in such a line as a howling success.

WRIGHT-ARBUCKLE

At the First Presbyterian church Saturday at high noon, the marriage of Miss Agnes Arbuckle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, and William Wright of Mexia took place with Dr. Charles T. Caldwell, pastor of the bride, the celebrant.

About the altar, made beautiful with palms, ferns and a profusion of daisies, wedding vows were taken. Mrs. Martin Allday of Mexia sang "All for You," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Wheeler, who also played Lohengrin's wedding march.

Mrs. Allday was gowned in a rose frock and hat. Miss Grace Arbuckle, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a tucked gray canton crepe with touches of black in the stitching and fringes and picture hat of ashes of roses. She carried a Colonial bouquet. The bride entered with her father and was lovely in a blue coat suit with gray and blue hat and gray accessories. She wore a fur stole and her corsage was sweetheart buds and valley lilies.

Messrs. Arthur Ruhman and Wendell Stiles were ushers and Mr. Wright of Fort Worth, cousin of the groom, best man. Baskets of daisies marked pews of the family, close friends and the Sunday school class of Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, who decorated the church so artistically.—Waco News-Tribune.

Negro Caught With The Goods Stolen From Local Store

A few days ago Max Beiber, proprietor of the Beiber Dry Goods store on South Sherman street, was accosted by a negro who was in search of work and to help him out he gave him a little work in sweeping out the store and washing the windows. About noon the negro asked him for some money to get his dinner and he gave it to him and about four o'clock he asked if the work was finished and after the affirmative reply he asked to be paid in some form of clothing. In the meantime a lady working at the store went to get some money out of her purse and found that it had been taken out of the purse and a little later her husband came in and finding out the situation approached the negro and asked for the money. The negro became frightened but still refused to know anything concerning the lost articles. Officer Feltz was called in and he made the negro give back the money. Before taking him to the jail the negro said that he wished to get some old clothes that he had in the rear of the store and on examining the goods, they were found to have been taken from the store and were valued at about $35.00. The negro, whose name is Graig, was let out on bond and his trial will come up sometime soon.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

July 4, 1776, the day that marked the signing of the Declaration of Independence, always will be glorious in the annals of the United States. For then it was that the thirteen original colonies defied the British tyrant and threw off forever the British yoke.

The seven years of war that followed were the "times that tried men's souls." There were days when Washington's ill-fed, half-clad army neared exhaustion, but still fought bravely on, infinitely preferring death to chains and slavery. These were the days that saw the making of the first American patriots whose names will always be linked reverently with the birth of this free nation.

From the first Independence Day to this Glorious Fourth of July, the nation which at first was poor, weak and despised, has raised itself to the foremost place among the powers of the earth.

Hang out an American flag today! Rejoice that you live in a land of peace and plenty and prosperity! So live that you may be worthy of the sacrifices endured by the patriots of Revolutionary Days! So love your country that you may leave it a better place than when your eyes first saw the light of day!

Farmers State Bank

Announcement

I wish to announce to my friends and patrons that I have severed my connections with the Corsicana Steam Laundry and in the future I will be affiliated with the New Way Laundry of Mexia.

This Laundry has only been in operation since June 2nd and are employing 22 people, doing a business that would be a credit to most of the older Laundries of the State.

They have built a large business in the short period of one month through their SUPREME quality of work and quick service.

This is the first time in years that Mexia did not have an out of town Laundry agent but I am like most of Mexia's citizens, I have always been anxious to patronize Mexia institutions first and now seeing the high grade of Laundry work they are doing here I am proud of the opportunity to be in charge of their up town office in Tidwell's Barber Shop. And I ask you to call me at any time for your laundry and assure you that I will be glad to serve you at any time.

I am the Man putting on this Circulation Campaign

—At one time I was personally acquainted with most every man, woman and child in Limestone county; sold merchandise for Nussbaum & Schaff in Groesbeck for five years and six months, leaving Groesbeck and coming to Mexia to manage Jcs. Nussbaum Dry Goods Department in 1917. I landed in this county in August 1910, 12 years ago, and at that time these two firms did big credit and supply business and their friends and customers were numbered by the thousands. Working for these two firms I made a broad acquaintance and many good friends in Limestone and adjoining counties. My reason for making this statement is that some of my best friends do not know I am connected with The Mexia Daily News, but henceforth I will let it be known during this campaign. As I have stated, within the next 12 months, issues will come up in which you and I will be deeply concerned, and my policy will be to state Cold Facts!

From day to day you will see how this Circulation Campaign will go. We must have 5,000 new subscribers. Send in your subscription today. We are putting this drive on at a big loss to the company, but we want you as a reader for 12 months. So don't fail me.

the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone
County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas,

A. D. 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24th day of October A. D. 1922 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as
No. 3207A, wherein Farmers State Bank of Mexia, Texas, is Plaintiff, and G. C. Wisdom and C. M. Walker are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on December 2, 1921, defendant G. C. Wisdom made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his promissory note for the sum of $262.50 of that date payable to the order of plaintiff at Mexia, Texas, and due thirty days thereafter, bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees;
that said note is past due and unpaid and defendant G. C. Wisdom has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay same or any part thereof.

Plaintiff shows that defendant C.
M. Walker on June 29, 1921, made, notes for the sum of $500.00 each,

due twelve and eighteen months thereafter respectively, and bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees, said notes were given in part payment for the following described real estate and premises situated in the County of El Paso, state of Texas, being Section No. 12 in Block No. 7

Public School Lands in El Paso
County, Texas; that said property was on June 28, 1923, conveyed by
C. E. Scruggs to defendant C. M.
Walker by deed of that date in consideration among other things of the two notes last above described, and did in said deed of conveyance retain a lien to secure the payment of said notes; that said notes are past due and unpaid and defendant
C. M. Walker has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay same or any part thereof; that said notes were by written indorsement thereon duly assigned and delivered by the payee, C. E. Scruggs, without recourse to defendant C. M. Walker, and defendant G. C. Wisdom, by written indorsement thereon transferred, assigned and delivered said notes above described to plaintiff as collateral security and to guarantee the payment on the first note described herein.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer, and that upon a trial it have judgment against the defendants for its debt, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for foreclosure of the vendor's lien upon the land above described and an Order of Sale directing said property be sold and a sufficient amount of the proceeds therefrom be applied to the payment of plaintiff's indebtedness, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in law and in equity that plaintiff may be justly entitled to receive.

Herein Fail Not, and have before

SHELBY SHOUTS

SHELBY, Mont., July 3.—Shelby today greeted the magic words, "the fight is on," with a Western celebration that grew wilder every minute.

Gloom and disappointment that has hovered over the place for days, turned into cheering at sunrise and the greeting given Jack Kearns' agreement assumed all the elements of a young riot.

First word was received over the press wires where a group of fight fans kept watch all night. As they flocked into the street, a stranger to the town greeted them.

God's women from the East who came with their husbands to see the cowboy, the mountains and the fight, saw, from the round-up and Wild West shows and leather-jacketed oil men with girls in bangles and aprons on their arms joined in a demonstration, the likes of which Shelby has not known since the armistice.

SPORTLIGHTS.

By W. R.

Mexia was the best drawing town in the circuit last half with Waco second. It looms up that Waco and Austin will be the leaders in the last half.

Stars of U. S., England and Canada went down before the whirlwind play of Lewis White and Louis Thalheimer of the University of Texas in the intercollegiate doubles championship which was played in Philadelphia. They defeated Williams and Jones in the finals by the score of 11-9, 6-3, 9-11, 5-7, and 6-1. It was perhaps the greatest match ever staged in intercollegiate tennis competition.

Johnnie Kilbane says that the rumor of Jack Dempsey having lost his punch is all bunk. In fact he believes that Jack is in the prime of condition and he has gained, if anything, more speed and things will be like the Jess Willard fight.

The Bathers could do nothing with Tiner Saturday and he allowed only three hits, two being of the scratch variety.

Butler plays right field like he was an old hand at the job and he made several pretty catches in the garden.

PARIS, Texas.—Blackberries on a china-berry tree. This peculiar twist in nature is found on the property of Stillman Spears, one of the oldest residents of this city. Each year the tree bears a crop of luscious blackberries.

DENTON, Texas.—Persons seeking permits to erect business buildings outside the business zone have been instructed to proceed with such construction, following repeal of the city zoning ordinance by the city commission.

EL PASO, Texas.—When Catina Cavillo, 60, drank a "shot" of wood alcohol and found himself to be in no condition to stagger about on the streets, he wired himself to a telephone pole where he was found by police. The case was dismissed when the aged man told the court the reason for his action.

SWEETWATER, Texas.—Construction of the first unit of what will eventually be one of the largest plants for the manufacture of gypsum products in the Southwest will be started here by the United Gypsum company of Chicago, in the near future. When completed the plant will represent an investment of one million dollars.

DALLAS, Texas.—Charlie Banks, negro teamster, is an optimist of the first water. One of Charlie's mules kicked him a fearful wallop in the stomach but at the emergency hospital said it would have been "pretty bad" had the mule used both feet.

TYLER, Texas.—Reverend J. T. McNew, pastor of the First Baptist church here has applied to the National Golf association for membership in the hole-in-one club. Driving from the tee on his first shot of the afternoon, the doctor of divinity, holed his ball. The hole was 225 yards.

CLEBURNE, Texas.—Members of the Cleburne country club are concerned over the high mortality rate among fish in the club lake. A leaky dam has permitted the water to get so low that the fish are dying in large numbers.

SHERMAN, Texas.—The old theory that high class vegetables can not be grown on black land has been refuted by W. J. Riddlehouse of Gunter, who recently displayed a cabbage which measured 28½ inches in circumference and onions which measured ten inches around.

DALLAS, Texas.—When Miss Ova Cash and William Sides were married here, the entire ceremony was conducted in the same language. Both Miss Cash and Sides are deaf mutes.

the park and it is certain that if these are well represented there that a big occasion will result. The program is to last only one hour and will consist of a sing song by the audience, led by H. S. Jenkins and a patriotic address on "Americanism" by Dr. Luther B. Bridges who is conducting the revival at the Methodist church.

Following the program, those who care to go to Tehuacana or to other points for the day will be free to do so, as the service at the park will conclude the program here.

Many are expected to attend the Gusho-Gumbo Buster game in the afternoon.

At night, the usual service of the revival at the First Methodist church will be continued and the public is invited to it.

The promoters, for hours refused to listen to him, and after a lot of deliberation they finally agreed to accept his terms.

After the agreement had been effected, Kearns said he was actuated throughout by the desire to be a "good fellow" and sportsman. He declared he felt that he had done his part inasmuch as he had not declared the contract invalidated at midnight when the final payment of his purse was not forthcoming and when it was within his legal rights to declare the fight off.

During the early morning conferences, George Stanton, Great Falls banker, and all the committee of financiers interested in the fight admitted they didn't have one single cent with which to guarantee the final payment of the Dempsey purse. It was then that Kearns made terms by which a settlement was effected.

Kearns said early today that he was going to Shelby to look the situation over and have something to say about the sale of tickets on the final day.

During all the excitement the champion was spending his time at the training camp playing hearts with his sparring partners and a few friends who had jumped away from the financial frenzy of the town to keep him company.

Kearns said he had signed the contract in good faith and had turned down several good offers for the champion on the national holiday, but that he had signed a contract with persons he thought responsible and that he was willing and ready to go through with it.

Kearns also declared he had been unable to learn who was in charge of the Shelby ticket office and that he was leaving this morning to watch the sale of tickets.

The manager of the champion said also that he had reached an agreement with Eddie Kane, manager of the challenger, and that they had agreed there would be a fight for the world's heavyweight championship in Shelby, July 4, between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons.

Jack Kearns left for Shelby on an early train. He intended to look over final arrangements there and see how the last minute ticket sales were coming on.

These developments followed a night of harrowing announcements, counter announcements, rumors, untruths and almost continuous conferences. It had become known earlier in the evening that the promoters had only a fraction of the amount necessary to pay Dempsey his last $100,000. Earlier in the evening the best that Kearns would offer was: "Pay me $50,000 and I'll gamble for the other $50,000 on the gate receipts." The promoters then sadly informed him that they didn't have $50,000 and furthermore didn't have much prospect of raising that amount.

George Stanton had a row with Kearns in one of the earlier conferences and he took no active part in the effort to find a way out of the maze of figures and offers. Stanton, a banker of Great Falls, previously had been acting as chief promoter.

There was the utmost confusion about the whole affair. The nerves of the promoters were on the ragged edge and Kearns himself didn't feel any too good about the prospect of sending his champion into the ring without being paid the amount promised.

"I want to be a good sport about it," Kearns said. "But I feel everyone ought to understand my side of it."

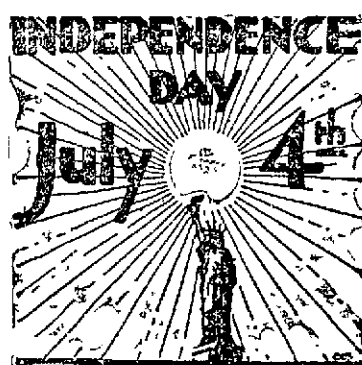

The scenes around the hotel as the night wore into a weary dawn were peaceful. The town pretended not to be excited about the affair. Citizens took more interest in the Elks convention here.

But the lobby of the hotel was crowded with newspaper men gathered from all parts of the country. The fight hangers-on dashed hither and thither, looking important. There must have been about 5,000 "cigars smoked in the course of the evening and the butts and cigar stubs were piled high.

A conferee would strut out of the conference room and be immediately besieged by the reporters. Then with his statements the correspondents dashed off to their wires or the telegraph office to apprise the world of the situation.

Then all of a sudden the confereed room door would burst open and angry, weary men would force their way out announcing they would seek peace in sleep. But there was no sleep. As soon as Kearns got away from one group or reached a deadlock, someone else would buttonhole him and drag him off to another conference.

McCaw Back In The Game Triumphs Over Red Sox Muns

Gushers Going As Of Old And On Way To The Top

Well, we are going on a little farther towards the top of the race now after losing the first two games to the Marlin Bathers. The boys are still alive and they showed the Sox yesterday how to administer another defeat by way of the one run margin by hopping on Musing Muns for six runs that beat the count of five of the Sox and took the second game of the series from them.

Lefty McCaw, after a long absence from the mound, due to injuries, and although the southpaw was a little wild, he managed to get his slants working where they could not knock them anywhere except in to the hands of some waiting Gusher who gobbled it up easy.

The Sox got ten hits off Lefty but they could not make them count but for half as many runs. While the Gushers got eight hits, they made those count for six counters.

Our Gushers

RODNEY WHITNEY
Folks, it is with great pleasure that I introduce to you, the fans of Gusherville, a member of the Gusher squad, namely our most honorable maskman, Rodney Whitney, who is, and has the reputation of being, the foremost catcher in the Texas Association. Mr. Whitney bats and throws right handed and he does both jam-up. He calls his home one of the largest Texas metropolises, which is none other than San Antonio. He started his baseball with 'a. semi-pro club in 1920 and in 1921 he played with Sweetwater in the West Texas league. Last year he took up his duties behind the home bag with the Gushers and is still holding it in great fashion. He says that he is only 21 years of age and single, but we doubt the first and we feel kinda leery about putting this in for fear of the last statement.

(Editor's Note. There will appear in The Daily News each day a name and full account of a Gusher player and full particulars concerning him. Don't miss these because you never can tell what may turn up or what has ever happened to any of the boys.)

Kearns Will Let Dempsey Fight

Contenders Are In Pink Of Condition Now

Shelby, Mont., July 3.—The rumors that the Dempsey - Gibbons match had blown up was contradicted by the statement of Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, who agreed today to let the champion enter the ring and take the chance of getting the rest from the gate receipts. Both fighters are in the pink of condition and both are sure to win but nay, not so.

SURE IT DOES GOOD

Black-Draught Live Medicine (Vegetable) Praised by the Head of a Louisiana Family.

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine," said Mr. Henry Garrett, of this city.

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly."

"I, myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine."

"We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver."

"I am glad to recommend anything that has been the help to my family that Black-Draught has."

"My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

If your liver gets out of fix, take Black-Draught. It will help to drive the bile poisons and other unhealthy matters out of your system.

REAL JOY FOR THIS SCREEN ACTRESS TO
PLAY FLAPPER ROLE

Pauline Garon has won her spurs as the American screen flapper. And it isn't a bit strange, for having flapped through Cecil B. DeMille's "Adam's Rib" and at present doing a thorough bit of flapping in George Melford's latest Paramount picture, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which will be shown at the National theatre tomorrow. She deserves the title.
Miss Garon with her blonde hair, bobbed, and her blue eyes, snappy, looks the flapper every inch of her five feet, one, height. She has a saucy manner, a "make-it-snappy" attitude, and a walk that suggests much pertinence and sophistication.
In "You Can't Fool Your Wife," Waldemar Young, author and scenarioist, has given her a "smart" role. She is the life of the party and when the older folks slow up Pauline jazzes up the show in lively style.
And Miss Garon is defender of her sex who are sometimes slurringly referred to as flappers.
"You know, if more people in this world had the flapper's attitude toward life there would not be nearly so much sham," she said. "The so-called flapper is not a 'yes' individual. She goes straight at the real meaning of things and is not afraid to say what she thinks. There is no camouflage for her. She doesn't bow to the courage of her convictions."
"I'm for the flapper and I am glad that I look like one and can play on the screen. It's a joy."

Immigrants Flood
Ports Of Entry

BOSTON, Mass., July 2.—Immigration officials today resumed the task of witting several thousand immigrants who arrived on four steam ships since Sunday morning.
Nearly 8,000 prospective entrants to the United States poured from the steamships Adriatic and President Fillmore when they docked. Most of these were examined before night. The newcomers who arrived on the Mount Clinton and Columbia are being examined today.
Immigration officials said an unusual large number of beautiful women were among the immigrants landed.
DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—Five hundred foreigners stormed the immigration office here yesterday and were admitted to the United States under quotas allowed for the fiscal year. As many more would-be immigrants were expected to apply today and on the rest of the days of the week, according to Dr. P. L. Prentiss, head of immigration here. Several thousand applications are expected to be received during the week, as thousands of foreigners are reported waiting on the Canadian side. Ninety-five per cent of those admitted were from the Canadian and British possessions. A few were from France and Central Europe.

PUBLIC BUYS CLEAN BOOKS
CHICAGO.—Ninety-eight per cent of the reading public buys clean books. Modern questionable literature is of inferior artistic quality and is not a public menace, declared M. J. Kinsella of Buffalo, at a meeting of publishers here. "Practically none of these modern books that get a flicker of notoriety by being attacked as immoral have any artistic value," said Kinsella.
MONTREAL, Quebec.—The rapid rate at which the Canadian production of news-print continues to grow is illustrated in a comparison of the figures of the first four months of the present year with those of 1922. There has been a substantial increment each month, the production for the four month period being 398,835 tons as against 329,416 tons an increase of 69,419 tons.

E. L. SMITH OIL CO. GUSHER EXTENDS FIELD

3 Gushers In Monday, One Of Which Soon Catches On Fire

Irvine No. 1 Now Making 12,000 And Getting Bigger

E. L. Smith Oil Company, Inc., another Mexia operator in the Powell pool, joined production owners Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock when the Irvine No. 1 came in as an extension Southeast of almost one half mile. It made 390 barrels of pure pipe line oil before five o'clock, an hour later and by eleven o'clock, approximately 7 hours after it had gushed in, the gusher had filled the 4,500 barrels of storage on the lease. The production was conservatively estimated at first as 5,000 barrels, then 9,000 and due to the constant and steady growth of the output, today it is said the well is making at the rate of from 12,000 to 15,000 barrels daily.

The well for the past two weeks has been the operation of greatest interest and significance of any that was going down. Its incoming proves up considerable acreage. During the past few days, E. L. Smith, President and Blake Smith, Vice President, have been on the ground almost constantly and the preparations made beforehand showed the faith they had and the confidence that the driller had in the final results, and so the well came in without any difficulty or trouble from inadequate preparation or from that which sometimes occurs when a gusher springs a surprise.

J. L. Collins was the Contracting Driller. The well was started about the first of June and most satisfactory and rapid progress has been made, the well leading in the race for the sands south of the Humphreys Fair 1 and Southeast of the Humphreys McKie 2.

The gravity of the oil is 36. This extension discovery by the Mexia-born company, officered by Mexia citizens, is considered the most significant single discovery yet made by the E. L. Smith Oil Company and will be a matter of much interest to stockholders throughout the United States. The Company also owns part of the royalty on the tract.

The success has also stimulated interest in that part of the field and confirmed the faith of such major companies as the Humble, Roxana and others who own large lease holdings in that direction.

The E. L. Smith Oil Company Inc. has already made locations for 2 more wells on its Irvine holdings.

Offset acreage to the West is held by the Humble Oil and Refining Company and to the North by the Roxana, both of which have wells going down. Many new locations were made today, following the discovery and this will go on unabated, it is believed, at least until the Humble Company completes the furthest South test on the Kent.

The Sun Company's Springfield No. 1 was brought in Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock, being this company's second producer for the field. Its first was on the Kent tract. The new producer on the Springfield is considered good for 2500 to 3000 barrels a day. It made better than 100 barrels an hour for the first six hours. Being a direct offset to the Thompson Springfield, it is expected to stimulate activities considerably in that section of the field. It will bring the Sun Company's production for the field up to about 6,000 barrels daily. It picked up the sand at 2,915 feet and was drilled in ten feet.

Opportunity Is Discussed By Dr. Luther Bridgers

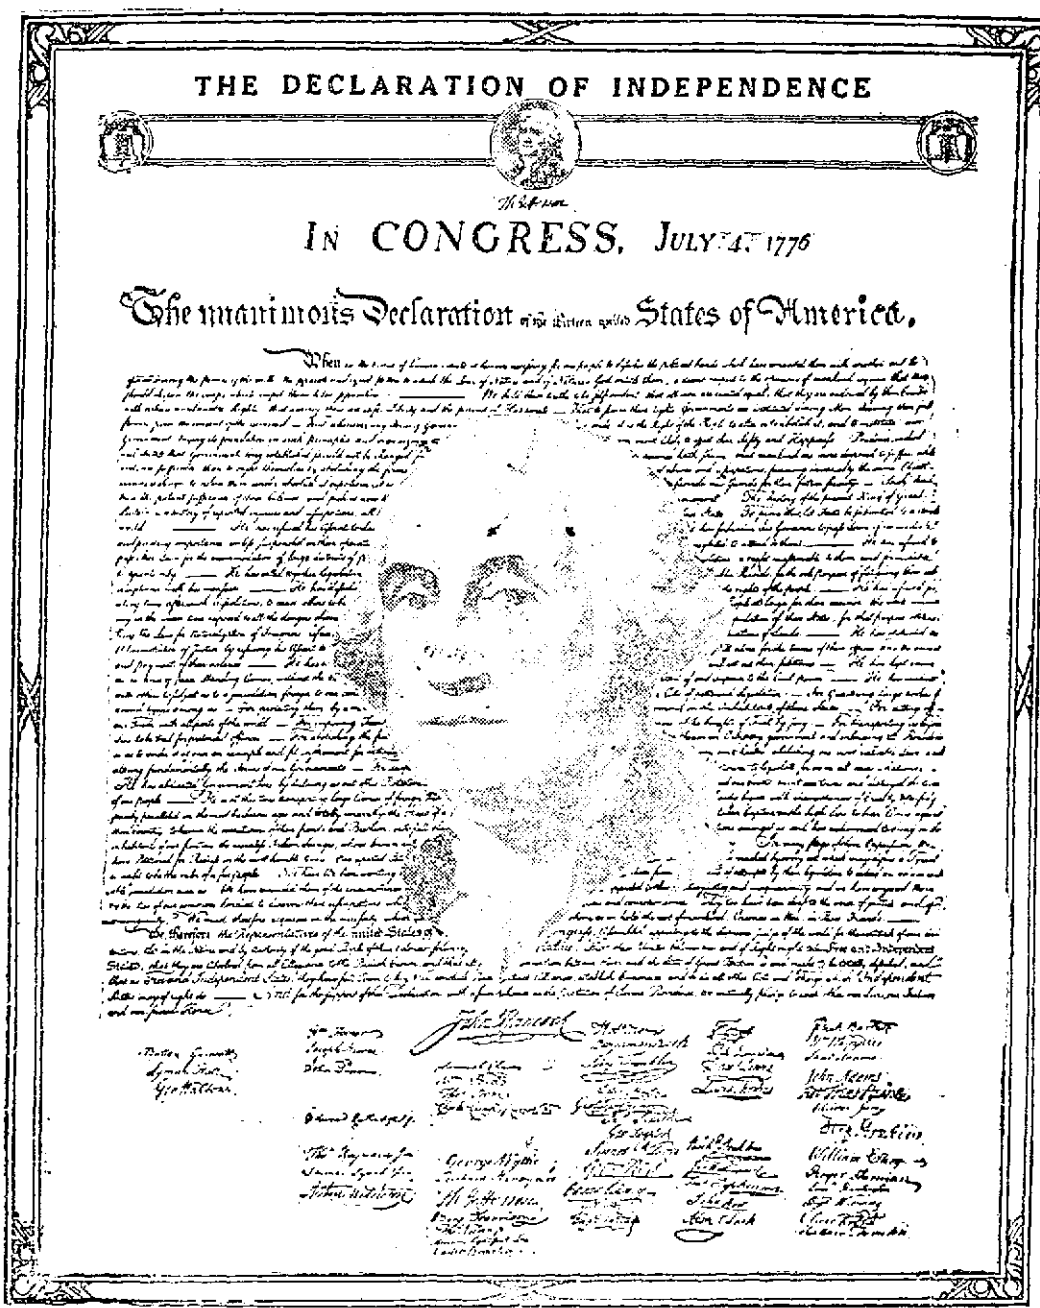

Large crowds and a growing interest still characterize the revival now going on at the Methodist church, however, the morning service attendance is not as great as it should be or as it is desired that it should be, according to all who are deeply interested in the success of the meeting.

"And He Must Needs go through Samaria" were the words of the text taken last night around which the evangelist, Dr. Luther B. Bridgers, preached another strong sermon. "Opportunity" was the subject, and as he discussed the great theme in a most inspirational way, he pointed out that man's only opportunity for happiness lies in Jesus Christ and His service. Sometimes men and women must go out of their way to grasp this opportunity for service. Men and women have never found anything to satisfy in this life except as offered and received from the Holy one of Galilee. The minister told the story of the woman at the well which was an incident in the trip through Samaria and perhaps represented the real mission he had in that little country. He said that God's message to the individual was often more impressive even than to the throngs that assembled by the seashore to hear the sermons preached. If you realized that your home needs God; that your girl needs God; that your son needs God, then you would not lose this opportunity to get right with Him. There is a chasm between the world and the church, represented in the picture by the branch between the East and the West. The opportunity is now come to break down the Pharisaical differences and help win

the world for Christ. Have you dared to carry salvation to some soul? God help us to improve our opportunities!

J. E. WINANS HERE

J. E. Winans, one of the best loved oil operators who has ever lived in Mexia, now of Fort Worth, was a visitor here Friday. Mr. Winans has several wildcat operations going down and is making every effort to complete them as early as possible.

Groesbeck Parties Seriously Injured When I. & G. N. Passenger Strikes Car In Which They Were Riding From Waco

Groesbeck, Texas, July 3.—Four persons were badly injured when the South bound I. & G. N. passenger train struck the automobile in which they were riding about five miles south of Waco Monday. The car was owned by Stony Jackson, a grocery merchant of Groesbeck, and was driven by a colored chauffeur. Mrs. Oliphant, wife of John Oliphant a barber here, and little daughter were also in the car. Jackson was in ill health and had been to Waco for treatment and was returning home when the accident occurred. He suffered a sprained back, a broken ankle, and was considerably bruised about the body. Mrs. Oliphant and daughter were taken from the wreckage unconscious and are both in serious condition. The chauffeur got off with several bruises but was able to help in the rescue of the other passengers. The automobile was making the grade at a slow rate of speed and the train was upon them before it was noticed by the passengers of the automobile. The victims of the accident were picked up by the crew of the train and carried to Mart and sent to Groesbeck by ambulance.

Mitchell Jones-Seay Cranfill Christian 1 Is Yet Burning

The third well to come in at Powell Monday was the Mitchell Jones-Cranfill-Christian No. 1. Its flow was estimated at about 3,000 barrels, however, so short was its life as an uninterrupted gusher that no accuracy could be attached to the estimate, for almost at the moment that it was completed, the six members of the drilling crew had to scamper for their lives as it burst into blaze and smoke.

The fire could be discerned from Mexia, recalling the lurid scenes of earlier days in the field when the tragic fire occurred on Hughes McKie. The flaming well is located about 300 yards southwest of the Thompson-Springfield No. 1.

Only the fact that the strong flow of gas burst the control head saved the lives of the workmen, according to V. N. Noble, newspaper editor of Kerens, who was watching the well come in. A crowd of 100, assembled for the same purpose, hastily scrambled to places of safety as the gasser became a veritable volcano.

The fire was caused, according to observers at the well, by a spark from the boiler. When the gas flow burst the control head the drilling crew sensing danger, went 50 feet away from the drill. They were barely out of range before flames began to leap hundreds of feet in the air.

Paul Kaulh Successor Henry Johnson Great Throngs Pay Tribute to Henry M. Johnson

The funeral services of Henry M. Johnson, conducted at the Methodist church, Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock was one of the most largely attended services of its kind ever held in Mexia. It was an eloquent tribute of love and esteem for a neighbor and modest Christian gentleman.

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. B. Andrews, assisted by Rev. J. G. Putman. Impressive to everyone gathered was the service from the moment the casket rolled through the door and the words "I am the Resurrection and the Life" opened the service. The choir of which he was a faithful and efficient member for many years, was present almost without exception—and the voices of men and women who had sung by his side at many other similar services and on all occasions at the church then joined in tenderly singing over the remains of one of their own.

The funeral arrangements were under the direction of the John R. Corley Undertaking Company. Following the Scripture reading by Rev. Putman, the pastor delivered a convincing and sympathetic message along the lines suggested by Paul's unanswerable discourse on the immortality of the soul.

A long line of automobiles followed the hearse to the City Cemetery where he was tenderly laid to rest beneath a bank of flowers placed by loved ones from every walk of life in Mexia. At the grave the K. P.'s had charge. He had been a beloved brother in the order for more than 20 years and although brief, indeed impressive, was the ceremonies there as read and directed by Major N. P. Houx. As the casket was lowered, sprigs of evergreen were dropped by the members of the lodge who assembled around the fresh opened grave and then they softly and gently hid his body from mortal vision, inspired in the faith that they will some day meet him face to face in that world where all bodily pains are driven from the temple of clay and where no hearts ever break or fail.

Many from neighboring towns and from Freestone County, where the deceased was born, gathered at the services to pay their respects to the deceased and to lend their presence as a balm of sympathy to the bereaved son. Dr. R. M. Johnson, to his two sisters and to all other surviving loved ones.

Plans Complete For Program In Mexia The 4th

The Stars and Stripes are today visible on every hand in Mexia, as preparations are under way for the observance of the Nation's Birthday here on July the Fourth.

It is hoped that by morning every business house and home in Mexia will be adorned by the folds of the flag of America.

Mrs. Sam Cox first called attention to the desire of the ladies clubs of Mexia that everyone join in this part of the observance of the fourth here and that a program be given. As a result, followed by the cooperation of the various civic organizations and patriotic bodies of Mexia a program will be held at 10:00 o'clock at Gusher Park on South McKinney Street, to which the entire public is invited. Old Folks To Enjoy Big Day At Church

An Old Folks Service is planned at the Methodist church Thursday morning at the usual revival hour, 10 o'clock. It is hoped that none in Mexia and surrounding community will be overlooked in the plans for the day and that it will be a memorable occasion for the old folks of the section. Dr. Luther B. Bridgers has a lecture-sermon for the occasion, and other features are to be given that have already aroused much interest and determination to be there. An automobile committee has been named, comprised of members of all churches in Mexia and these will go out and bring in the "shut-ins" and all who might not otherwise be able to be present. Everyone who knows of any who should be provided for on that date are urged to notify, Mrs. John R. Corley, telephone 55, chairman of the committee. The service is not limited to old folks alone, but to all "shut-ins" and the public is cordially invited.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 3.—Taking a gambler's and a sportsman's chance, Jack Kearns, in the wee hours of this morning, agreed to send Jack Dempsey in the ring against Tommy Gibbons in Shelby, on July 4.

Kearns is taking a "stud game" chance that he would be able to obtain the $300,000 purse guaranteed him in his contract. After a whole night spent in conference, during which Kearns made overtures after overtures to compromise and help the promoters out of their difficulties, it was finally agreed that Kearns should accept the $200,000 that has already been paid him on behalf of the champion and gamble on the gate receipts to make the additional $100,000.

Throughout the conferences, during which efforts were made to learn the real responsible authorities for the fight, Kearns offered every proposition that he knew of to make the fight good. He suggested a postponement of a month; offered to fight for $250,000 and he expressed his willingness to go on the $200,000 that had already been paid to him and to take his chance of getting the rest of his $300,000 purse from the gate after the expenses of the show, including the purse for the preliminaries, the salaries of the ushers and the special policemen had been paid.

AMERICA

My country tis of thee,
Sweet land of Liberty,
Of thee I sing
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side,
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free,
Thy name I love.
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees,
Sweet freedom's song.
Let mortal tongues awake;
Let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break
The song prolong.

Our father's God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing.
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King!

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT IS NOT DEAD!

In this day of materialism, a constant fight must ever be made to place things first.

As citizens, the men of this community even have many interests which persistently strive to take their minds and hearts off the holy things in our national life.

They are all right, if they but pause to think. On this Fourth of July, let's pause and pay tribute to our nation. Men's duty is not confined to the payment of taxes.

There are innumerable citizens who are unable to pay their taxes who are loyal as any hero who ever died on the altar of native land.

There are some few men and women in the United States today, whose number is constantly and appallingly increasing who scoff at those who believe in the spirit of a nation—who deny that a people can have a soul. They are not the tribe that makes traditions or that perpetuates the glory of the day which should never die.

The Spirit of the Fourth of July did not go out with Roman candles. Mexia citizens, Limestone county citizens, Freestone county citizens, Texas—all America will on Wednesday celebrate in the new way with the old spirit.

It has been said that people still put fresh flowers at the feet of the bronze Nathan Hale in City Hall Park in New York. It is one of the busiest spots in the world—and New York is supposed to be a heartless and cold city. Yet almost any day you may find tributes laid at the feet of the young schoolmaster whose only regret was that he had but one life to give for his country. On the Fourth of July flowers are banked there. They are not contributions from patriotic organizations; this downtown park is not a gathering place for paraders or celebrators. They are tributes from American citizens who treasure the traditions of our forefathers. They give proof that the nation has a spirit, the people a soul.

The giant crackers have gone and the soap-box orators have lost prestige, but we have come to a saner, finer Fourth of July. Not so many people are getting drunk on that day, and not so many children are being killed or maimed. But we have not forgotten Nathan Hale and all that courageous soul stands for.

Each state has her own heroes of whom she is justly proud, torch bearers of all time.

Kentucky has her John Yandell, the young lieutenant who could not pick "the weakest man in the outfit" for an errand that meant much to his land but certain death to the one that performed the service. He sent himself.

South Carolina has her Major Sinkler Manning who could not send his men ahead of him in a hopeless drive at Mount Faucon, so he went in front and was first to die.

Texas had her Colonel Fannin, who could not signify his willingness to die by dragging himself across the line in the Alamo, so weakened and shattered was he while he lay on his cot in that heroic spot, so he asked that he be lifted across with his countrymen.

Massachusetts has her Quincy Mills, the young newspaper man who, knowing that he was about to die, in the late great war, wrote his mother: "For myself, I would have you believe that whatever end I met, I met it with an even mind, constant in the conclusion that I would rather have gone out to this war and not come back than not to have gone at all. My chief regret, if I may not live to see the end, is that I may not witness the triumph of right over wrong in this the most terrible eruption of the forces of reaction in the history of man. That these forces can triumph is unthinkable; if they are to win, I would rather die now than witness the victory."

There is a long list of these modern patriots. They have justified their forefathers—they have given us a new Fourth of July.

Let's all show our appreciation for the better things in our national life by being present at the program at the park at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, July the Fourth, and there pledge anew our lives and our sacred all to the fullest and finest development of that part of the State entrusted to us.

CENTRAL TEXAS PRESS By N. P. HOUS.

"Dancing Teachers Name New Dance After Prince of Wales," says a news headline. One can not but wonder if the dancers will be pitched off a horse every few rounds when they come to the water hazard?—Exchange.

And since the prince seems to have elected to go it alone the question naturally arises, will the dancers do likewise while tripping off this new one?

"If you have a sure enough remedy to rid homes of ants, write it down for publication in the Morning Sun for complaining housewives."—Tyler Morning Sun. Is "ant" the right word, or did you mean "ant"? Our seeming impertinence is due to the fact that our wife's mother's sister, a maiden lady of mature years, angular body contour, and great lingual prolongation, has come to spend the summer with us.—Terrell Transcript.

The Transcript man sure has a splendid nerve, to thus declare himself by flying the red flag right in the face of the visitor.

There's a girl in Dallas who hasn't missed Sunday school but one time in thirteen years. We'll wager several simoleons that her mother hasn't had any trouble keeping her out of the dancing marathons staged recently in that metropolis.—Mineral Wells Index.

And she won't have any trouble keeping her from going joy riding and attending "petting parties" on the road sides after dark. That sort of a girl is worth her weight in gold to any mother or father, and she will have her reward, not only in this life to come, but here on earth also.

The editor of the Eagle is indebted to Dean E. J. Kyic of the College of Agriculture of A. and M. for a generous collection of gorgeous zenfas. These zenfas were grown in the horticultural gardens at A. and M. College, under the supervision of Dean Kyic, and were greatly appreciated by the recipient. These "old maids" were the fairest among ten thousands and altogether lovely.—Bryan Eagle.

Is zenia the horticultural name for "old maid"? We are not sure who the editor of the Eagle is at present, as there is no name at the masthead, but are sure that he appreciates such thoughtfulness.

"What do you understand by supporting the Constitution of a State, or of the United States? Is it not to give such Constitutional helps to the rights established by that Constitution as may be practically needed? Can you, if you swear to support the Constitution, and believe the Constitution establishes a right, clear your oath without giving it support? Do you support the Constitution, if knowing or believing there is a right established under it which needs specific legislation, you withhold that legislation? I can conceive of nothing plainer in the world. There can be nothing in the words 'support the Constitution' if you may run counter to it by refusing support to any right established under the Constitution."—Abraham Lincoln, September 15, 1858.

And the same rule holds good yet, more than sixty years after Lincoln uttered those patriotic words. Go out to the ball ground tomorrow and hear Rev. Bridgers speak on this subject.

ONE EDITOR'S SCHEDULE

We recently came across a schedule of prices charged by a country weekly editor, who offers to give a per cent of his earnings each year to founding an asylum for those feeble-minded people who believe that an editor has a soft snap. Here is the schedule—read it closely:

For telling the public a man is a successful citizen when everybody knows he is as lazy as a hired hand—$2.70.

For referring to some gallivanting fellow as one who is mourned by the entire community when he will only be missed by the boozers—$10.18.

Referring to one as a hero and a man of courage and one who will stand by his convictions when everybody knows he is a moral coward and would sell out for 30 cents—$6.21.

Referring to some gossiping female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet and know when every man in town would rather see Satan coming—$8.10.

Calling an ordinary preacher an eminent divine—60 cents.

Lambasting the daylight out of John Barleycorn at the behest of the local dry forces—6.77.

Whooping 'em up for the recall of the Volstead law in the interest of the members of the local Funnel club—$6.77.

Referring to a deceased merchant who never advertised and who was too stingy to contribute toward needed public improvement as a leading citizen and a progressive resident—$346.99.—Borrowed.

HOW'D YOU LIKE IT?

EL PASO, Texas, July 3.—How'd you like to have the job of deciding just when and what is a nuisance, meaning the neighbor's noisy phonograph, howling kine, quacking ducks or crowing roosters?

If you think it's a small job, ask any El Paso official.

Take Dr. Brown of the city health department, he knows.

"A woman comes in and asks if she hasn't the indisputable right to sleep at night instead of lying awake or rather being forced to lie awake, by the raucous quacks of her neighbor's ducks," says Dr. Brown.

"She further complains that those ducks are penned only 20 feet from her sleeping porch. Under the law, a person can harbor fowls and domestic animals provided they are kept a prescribed distance from the house. But the law can't regulate their quacking or crowing of lowing hours.

Other officials point out that noisy phonographs grinding out "Swing Wild" far into the night, are a nuisance and as such may be quieted. They take the stand that ducks and animals may be classed along with phonographs and made to hush.

S. A. Sackett, assistant county attorney, stoutly maintains, however, that ducks may quack and fowls may cluck any time they select without being molested by law.

Miss May Bessling will take charge as superintendent at the Mexia General hospital today.

Kansas Senator Killed in Garage

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 2.—W. Wallace Greene, Attorney and State Senator, was shot to death in his garage Saturday night was killed by an enemy seeking vengeance, according to the theory on which authorities worked today in seeking the slayer.

Greene recently was involved in important law suits and officials believed he made enemies in the conduct of his legal business who may have sought his death. Several persons who might have been antagonistic to the attorney because of his conduct of these matters, were questioned.

The attorney was shot to death while his wife looked on. He had just driven his auto into the garage in the basement of his home in an exclusive residential district of Kansas City when the shots were fired through a broken window.

DON'T FORGET

There Is A Library In Your Town

WHAT IT HAS FOR YOU— WHERE IS IT LOCATED—

That It Can Be Made One of The Most Valuable Assets of Your Town, If You Will Only Help to Make It So.

The editor of the Daily News who is always ready to lend his help in any cause which is for the uplift and advancement of Mexia has given a space in this paper to be used each week in the interests of Mexia Public Library.

Keep an eye open for the Library Corner. It will give you Book Notes, Book Lists, general library news and keep you informed as to how the Mexia Public Library may be made a strong factor in building you a better citizenship—in building you a better town.

The Story Telling Hour which for the present is in charge of the Y. W. A. of the Baptist church was conducted Tuesday afternoon by Miss Lillie Savage, assisted by Miss Louise Tidwell.

That it was a success was attested by the rapt attention and interest of the children present. The refreshment of fruit served at the close of the story telling, no doubt contributed some what to the good time. Misses Mildred Cox and Ruth Still will have the hour in charge this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The Library Association appreciates the interest shown in the Library by Mr. David Murphy who has instructed the carrier to leave the Dallas News at the Library Reading Room.

Won't someone else follow this example? We need more magazines, more newspapers, more books. A magazine rack would aid wonderfully in displaying and caring for our magazines. Won't some public spirited man who is handy with tools offer to make us one, as his contribution to the Public Library.

We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Tom Phillips who is generously donating ice to supply ice water for the drinking fountain.

The Library will be closed Wednesday in celebration of the Glorious Fourth.

Sam Werner, Secretary of the Mexia money. Before taking him to the jail was considering plans for a big Minstrel to be given by Noble talent in the next thirty days. The event, if held, will likely be in the auditorium of the new High School. A full explanation is expected in a few days and the public knows that the Shriners will put over whatever they propose in such a line as a howling success.

WRIGHT-ARBUCKLE

At the First Presbyterian church Saturday at high noon, the marriage of Miss Agnes Arbuckle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, and William Wright of Mexia took place with Dr. Charles T. Caldwell, pastor of the bride, the celebrant.

About the altar, made beautiful with palms, ferns and a profusion of daisies wedding vows were taken. Mrs. Martin Allday of Mexia sang "All for You," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Wheeler, who also played Lohengrin's wedding march.

Mrs. Allday was gowned in a rose frock and hat. Miss Grace Arbuckle sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a tucked gray canton crepe with touches of black in the stitching and fringe and picture hat of ashes of roses. She carried a Colonial bouquet. The bride entered with her father and was lovely in a blue coat suit with gray and blue hat and gray accessories. She wore a fur stole and her corsage was sweetheart buds and valley lilies.

Messrs. Arthur Ruhman and Wendell Stiles were ushers and Mr. Wright of Fort Worth, cousin of the groom, best man. Baskets of daisies marked pews of the family, close friends and the Sunday school class of Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, who decorated the church so artistically.—Waco News-Tribune.

Negro Caught With O. Y. Manning Buys The Goods Stolen From Local Store Interest In Grocery With J.P. Dunnaway

A few days ago Max Beiber, proprietor of the Beiber Dry Goods store on South Sherman street, was accosted by a negro who was in search of work and to help him out he gave him a little work in sweeping out the store and washing the windows. About noon the negro asked him for some money to get his dinner and he gave it to him and about four o'clock he asked if the work was finished and after the affirmative reply he asked to be paid in some form of clothing. In the meantime a lady working at the store went to get some money out of her purse and found that it had been taken out of the purse and a little later her husband came in and finding out the situation approached the negro and asked for the money. The negro became frightened but still refused to know anything concerning the lost articles. Officer Felz was called in and he made the negro give back the money. Before taking him to the jail the negro said that he wished to get some old clothes that he had in the rear of the store and on examining the goods, they were found to have been taken from the store and were valued at about $85.00. The negro, whose name is Graig, was let out on bond and his trial will come up sometime soon.

Announcement is made today that O. Y. Manning has purchased half interest in the Kaufman Street Grocery and is now associated with Mr. J. P. Dunnaway in the growing business of that institution.

Mr. O. Y. Manning is a well known citizen of Mexia, having lived here for many years.

Mr. Dunnaway has been a resident and business man of Mexia for the past two years. He entered the Grocery business when he first came and has constantly enjoyed a big patronage.

Following the change, the firm will continue to do business under the name of the Kaufman Street Grocery, and plans are being made to enlarge the stock and improve the service as far as possible.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

July 4, 1776, the day that marked the signing of the Declaration of Independence, always will be glorious in the annals of the United States. For then it was that the thirteen original colonies defied the British tyrant and threw off forever the British yoke.

The seven years of war that followed were the "times that tried men's souls." There were days when Washington's ill-fed, half-clad army neared exhaustion, but still fought bravely on, infinitely preferring death to chains and slavery. These were the days that saw the making of the first American patriots whose names will always be linked reverently with the birth of this free nation.

From the first Independence Day to this Glorious Fourth of July, the nation which at first was poor, weak and despised, has raised itself to the foremost place among the powers of the earth.

Hang out an American flag today! Rejoice that you live in a land of peace and plenty and prosperity! So live that you may be worthy of the sacrifices endured by the patriots of Revolutionary Days! So love your country that you may leave it a better place than when your eyes first saw the light of day!

Announcement

I wish to announce to my friends and patrons that I have severed my connections with the Corsicana Steam Laundry and in the future I will be affiliated with the New Way Laundry of Mexia.

This Laundry has only been in operation since June 2nd and are employing 22 people, doing a business that would be a credit to most of the older Laundries of the State.

They have built a large business in the short period of one month through their SUPREME quality of work and quick service.

This is the first time in years that Mexia did not have an out of town Laundry agent but I am like most of Mexia's citizens, I have always been anxious to patronize Mexia institutions first and now seeing the high grade of Laundry work they are doing here I am proud of the opportunity to be in charge of their up town office in Tidwell's Barber Shop. And I ask you to call me at any time for your laundry and assure you that I will be glad to serve you at any time.

I am the Man putting on this Circulation Campaign

—At one time I was personally acquainted with most every man, woman and child in Limestone county; sold merchandise for Nussbaum & Schaff in Groesbeck for five years and six months, leaving Groesbeck and coming to Mexia to manage Jas. Nussbaum Dry Goods Department in 1917. I landed in this county in August 1910, 12 years ago, and at that time these two firms did big credit and supply business and their friends and customers were numbered by the thousands. Working for these two firms I made a broad acquaintance and many good friends in Limestone and adjoining counties. My reason for making this statement is that some of my best friends do not know I am connected with The Mexia Daily News, but henceforth I will let it be known during this campaign. As I have stated, within the next 12 months, issues will come up in which you and I will be deeply concerned, and my policy will be to state Cold Facts!

From day to day you will see how this Circulation Campaign will go. We must have 5,000 new subscribers. Send in your subscription today. We are putting this drive on at a big loss to the company, but we want you as a reader for 12 months. So don't fail me.

D. 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24th day of October A. E. Scruggs to defendant C. M. Walker by deed of that date in consideration among other things of the two notes last above described, and did in said deed of conveyance reserve a lien to secure the payment of said notes; that said notes are past due and unpaid and defendant C. SHELBY SHOUTS

SHELBY, Mont., July 3.—Shelby today greeted the magic words, "the fight is on," with a Western celebration that grew wilder every minute.

Gloom and disappointment that has hovered over the place for days, turned into cheering at sunrise and the greeting given Jack Kearns' agreement assumed all the elements of a young riot.

First word was received over the press wires where a group of fight fans kept watch all night. As they flocked into the street, a stranger throng greeted them.

Gentle women from the East who came with their husbands to see the cowboys, the mountains and the fight, swayed from the round-up and Wild West shows and leather-jacketed oil men with girls in bungalow aprons on their arms joined in a demonstration, the likes of which Shelby has not known since the armistice.

By W. R.

Mexia was the best drawing town in the circuit last half with Waco second. It looms up that Waco and Austin will be the leaders in the last half.

Stars of U. S., England and Canada went down before the whirlwind play of Lewis White and Louis Thalheimer of the University of Texas in the intercollegiate doubles championship which was played in Philadelphia. They defeated Williams and Jones in the finals by the score of 11-9, 6-3, 9-11, 5-7, and 6-1. It was perhaps the greatest match ever staged in intercollegiate tennis competition.

Johnnie Kilbane says that the rumor of Jack Dempsey having lost his punch is all bunk. In fact he believes that Jack is in the prime of condition and he has gained, if anything, more speed and things will be like the Jess Willard fight.

The Bathers could do nothing with Tiner Saturday and he allowed only three hits, two being of the scratch variety.

Butler plays right field like he was an old hand at the job and he made several pretty catches in the garden.

PARIS, Texas—Blackberries on a china-berry tree. This peculiar twist in nature is found on the property of Stillman Spears, one of the oldest residents of this city. Each year the tree bears a crop of luscious blackberries.

DENTON, Texas.—Persons seeking permits to erect business buildings outside the business zone have been instructed to proceed with such construction, following repeal of the city zoning ordinance by the city commission.

EL PASO, Texas.—When Catrina Carillo, 60, drank a "shot" of wood alcohol and found himself to be in no condition to stagger about on the streets, he wired himself to a telephone pole where he was found by police. The case was dismissed when the aged man told the court the reason for his action.

SWEETWATER, Texas.—Construction of the first unit of what will eventually be one of the largest plants for the manufacture of gypsum products in the Southwest will be started here by the United Gypsum company of Chicago, in the near future. When completed the plant will represent an investment of one million dollars.

DALLAS, Texas.—Charlie Banks, negro teamster, is an optimist of the first water. One of Charlie's mules kicked him a fearful wallop in the stomach but at the emergency hospital said it would have been "pretty bad" had the mule used both feet.

TYLER, Texas.—Reverend J. T. McNew, pastor of the First Baptist church here has applied to the National Golf association for membership in the hile-in-one club. Driving from the tee on his first shot of the afternoon, the doctor of divinity, holed his ball. The hole was 225 yards.

CLEBURNE, Texas.—Members of the Cleburne country club are concerned over the high mortality rate among fish in the club lake. A leaky dam has permitted the water to get so low that the fish are dying in large numbers.

SHERMAN, Texas.—The old theory that high class vegetables can not be grown on black land has been refuted by W. J. Riddlehaver of Gunter, who recently displayed a cabbage which measured 23½ inches in circumference and onions which measured ten inches around.

DALLAS, Texas.—When Miss Ora Cash and William Slides were married here, the entire ceremony was conducted in the sign language. Both Miss Case and Slides are deaf mutes.

the park and it is certain that if these are well represented there that a big occasion will result. The program is to last only one hour and will consist of a sing song by the audience, led by H. S. Jenkins and a patriotic address on "Americanism" by Dr. Luther B. Bridges who is conducting the revival at the Methodist church.

Following the program, those who care to go to Tehuacana or to other points for the day will be free to do so, as the service at the park will conclude the program here.

Many are expected to attend the Gusher-Gumbo Buster game in the afternoon.

At night, the usual service of the revival at the First Methodist church will be continued and the public is invited to it.

The promoters, for hours refused to listen to him, and after a lot of deliberation they finally agreed to accept his terms.

After the agreement had been effected, Kearns said he was actuated throughout by the desire to be a "good fellow" and sportsman. He declared he felt that he had done his part inasmuch as he had not declared the contract invalidated at midnight when the final payment of his purse was not forthcoming and when it was within his legal rights to declare the fight off.

During the early morning conferences, George Stanton, Great Falls banker, and all the committee of financiers interested in the fight admitted they didn't have one single cent with which to guarantee the final payment of the Dempsey purse. It was then that Kearns made terms by which a settlement was effected.

Kearns said early today that he was going to Shelby to look the situation over and have something to say about the sale of tickets on the final day.

During all the excitement the champion was spending his time at the training camp playing hearts with his sparring partners and a few friends who had jumped away from the financial frenzy of the town to keep him company.

Kearns said he had signed the contract in good faith and had turned down several good offers for the champion on the national holiday, but that he had signed a contract with persons he thought responsible and that he was willing and ready to go through with it.

Kearns also declared he had been unable to learn who was in charge of the Shelby ticket office and that he was leaving this morning to watch the sale of tickets.

The manager of the champion said also that he had reached an agreement with Eddie Kane, manager of the challenger, and that they had agreed there would be a fight for the world's heavyweight championship in Shelby, July 4, between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons.

Jack Kearns left for Shelby on an early train. He intended to look over final arrangements there and see how the last minute ticket sales were coming on.

These developments followed a night of harrowing announcements, counter announcements, rumors, untruths and almost continuous conferences. It had become known earlier in the evening that the promoters had only a fraction of the amount necessary to pay Dempsey his last $100,000. Earlier in the evening the best that Kearns would offer was: "Pay me $50,000 and I'll gamble for the other $50,000 on the gate receipts." The promoters then sadly informed him that they didn't have $50,000 and furthermore didn't have much prospect of raising that amount.

George Stanton had a row with Kearns in one of the earlier conferences and he took no active part in the effort to find a way out of the maze of figures and offers. Stanton, a banker of Great Falls, previously had been acting as chief promoter.

There was the utmost confusion about the whole affair. The nerves of the promoters were on the ragged edge and Kearns himself didn't feel any too good about the prospect of sending his champion into the ring without being paid the amount promised.

"I want to be a good sport about it," Kearns said. "But I feel everyone ought to understand my side of it."

The scenes around the hotel as the night wore into a weary dawn were peaceful. The town pretended not to be excited about the affair. Citizens took more interest in the Elks convention here.

But the lobby of the hotel was crowded with newspaper men gathered from all parts of the country. The fight hangers-on dashed hither and thither, looking important. There must have been about 5,000 cigars smoked in the course of the evening and the butts and cigar stubs were piled high.

A conferee would strut out of the conference room and be immediately besieged by the reporters. Then with his statements the correspondents dashed off to their wires or the telegraph office to apprise the world of the situation.

Then all of a sudden the conference room door would burst open and angry, weary men would force their way out announcing they would seek peace in sleep. But there was no sleep. As soon as Kearns got away from one group or reached a deadlock, someone else would buttonhole him and drag him off to another conference.

McCaw Back In The Game Triumphs Over Red Sox Muns

Gushers Going As Of Old And On Way To The Top

Well, we are going on a little farther towards the top of the race now after losing the first two games to the Marlin Bathers. The boys are still alive and they showed the Sox yesterday how to administer another defeat by way of the one run margin for hopping on Musing Muns for six runs that beat the count of five of the Sox and took the second game of the series from them.

Lefty McCaw, after a long absence from the mound, due to injuries, and although the southpaw was a little wild, he managed to get his slants working where they could not knock them anywhere except in to the hands of some waiting Gusher who gobbled it up easy.

The Sox got ten hits off Lefty but they could not make them count but for half as many runs. While the Gushers got eight hits, they made those count for six counters.

Our Gushers

RODNEY WHITNEY

Folks, it is with great pleasure that I introduce to you, the fans of Gusherville, a member of the Gusher squad, namely our most honorable maskman, Rodney Whitney, who is, and has the reputation of being, the foremost catcher in the Texas Association. Mr. Whitney bats and throws right handed and he does both jam-up. He calls his home one of the largest Texas metropolises, which is none other than San Antonio. He started his baseball with a semi-pro club in 1920 and in 1921 he played with Sweetwater in the West Texas league. Last year he took up his duties behind the home bag with the Gushers and is still holding it in great fashion. He says that he is only 21 years of age and single, but we doubt the first and we feel kinda leery about putting this in for fear of the last statement.

(Editor's Note: There will appear in The Daily News each day a name and full account of a Gusher player and full particulars concerning him. Don't miss these because you never can tell what may turn up or what has ever happened to any of the boys.)

Kearns Will Let Dempsey Fight

Contenders Are In Pink Of Condition Now

Shelby, Mont., July 3.—The rumors that the Dempsey - Gibbons match had blown up was contradicted by the statement of Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, who agreed today to let the champion enter the ring and take the chance of getting the rest from the gate receipts. Both fighters are in the pink of condition and both are sure to win but nay, not so.

REAL JOY FOR THIS
SCREEN ACTRESS TO
PLAY FLAPPER ROLE

Pauline Garon has won her spurs as the American screen flapper. And it isn't a bit strange, for having flapped through Cecil B. DeMille's "Adam's Rib" and at present doing a thorough bit of flapping in George Melford's latest Paramount picture, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which will be shown at the National theatre tomorrow. She deserves the title.

Miss Garon with her blonde hair, bobbed, and her blue eyes, snappy, looks the flapper every inch of her five feet, one, height. She has a saucy manner, a "make-it-snappy" attitude, and a walk that suggests much pertinence and sophistication.

In "You Can't Fool Your Wife," Waldemar Young, author and scenarist, has given her a "smart" role. She is the life of the party and when the older folks slow up Pauline jazzes up the show in lively style.

And Miss Garon is defender of her sex who are sometimes slurringly referred to as flappers.

"You know, if more people in this world had the flapper's attitude toward life there would not be nearly so much sham," she said. "The so-called flapper is not a 'yes' individual. She goes straight at the real meaning of things and is not afraid to say what she thinks. There is no camouflage for her. She doesn't bow to the courage of her convictions."

"I'm for the flapper and I am glad that I look like one and can play on the screen. It's a joy."

Immigrants Flood
Ports Of Entry

BOSTON, Mass., July 2.—Immigration officials today resumed the task of sifting several thousand immigrants who arrived on four steamships since Sunday morning. Nearly 3,000 prospective entrants to the United States poured from the steamships Adriatic and President Fillmore when they docked. Most of these were examined before night. The newcomers who arrived on the Mount Clinton and Columbia are being examined today.

Immigration officials said an unusual large number of beautiful women were among the immigrants landed.

DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—Five hundred foreigners stormed the immigration office here yesterday and were admitted to the United States under quotas allowed for the fiscal year. As many more would-be immigrants were expected to apply today and on the rest of the days of the week, according to Dr. P. L. Prentiss, head of immigration here. Several thousand applications are expected to be received during the week, as thousands of foreigners are reported waiting on the Canadian side. Ninety-five per cent of those admitted were from the Canadian and British possessions. A few were from France and Central Europe.

PUBLIC BUYS CLEAN BOOKS
CHICAGO.—Ninety-eight per cent of the reading public buys clean books. Modern questionable literature is of inferior artistic quality and is not a public menace, declared M. J. Kinsella of Buffalo, at a meeting of publishers here. "Practically none of these modern books that get a flicker of notoriety by being attacked as immoral have any artistic value," said Kinsella.

MONTREAL, Quebec.—The rapid rate at which the Canadian production of news-print continues to grow is illustrated in a comparison of the figures of the first four months of the present year with those of 1922. There has been a substantial increment each month, the production for the four month period being 398,835 tons as against 329,416 tons an increase of 69,419 tons.
